

Protests Against The Islamic Republic of Iran

22 Bahman

During the past thirty years, the Islamic republic has violated the human rights of Iranians, and it has responded to any freedom-seeking movement with torture and murder. The mullah regime has no legitimacy in Iran or the world.

The Khomeinist regime seeks to extend its power around the world, and it uses jihadist methods and suicide attacks to achieve its objectives. The regime is the Most Active State Sponsor of Global Terrorism and its dangerous actions threaten peace and security in the Middle East and the world.

At this critical time, when brave Iranian men and women continue to fight for their rights despite the brutal attacks by the regime's thugs, it is essential for those outside Iran to participate in demonstrations in cities around the world on 11 February 2010 (22 Bahman), to express solidarity with the protesters in Iran.

We strongly urge the foreign governments (such as Communist China) that have been supporting the anti-Iranian mullah regime by providing tools of repression and training the thugs of the regime, to reconsider and stop their uncivilized actions against the Iranian people.

We call for effective support from all the people and governments of free countries around the world to assist the people of Iran to achieve their noble objectives: human rights, freedom and democracy.
